Grammar :-Grammar is the mother of any language. We should know necessary grammar to speak faultless English. The real trouble is , suppose somebody says I will come, somebody says I would come. One may not know where to use will and would, Shall and should. What is would have, could have, have been, has been etc. Secondly, in English because of slight change the whole meaning gets changed. So we should know what are these changes otherwise if one speaks wrong English it is possible that one wants to say something else and listener will understand something else, isn't it?

Solution:- Considering the above mentioned aspects we have prepared a grammar book, in which we have covered each and every thing necessary.

Spoken English:- There are lots of sentences which come often in your mind. Once you learn by heart these sentences it will be very easy for you to speak fluent English.
